

FRENCH FLIERS LAND IN SYRIA: SET NEW RECORD

NONE SERIOUSLY
HURT IN MISHAPS
ON ROADS SUNDAYArrests Follow Trio Of Accidents In This Vicinity

Donald Erickson of Rockford was taken to the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital about noon Sunday, suffering from severe cuts and bruises sustained when his car left the road Tuesday night, crashing into a deep ditch. A Rockford physician, who assisted in pulling Erickson from the wreckage of his car hurried him to the local hospital where his wounds were dressed. He was badly cut about the arms and sustained numerous bruises about the body.

Sheriff Frank Murray of Oregon telephoned the local police to hold Erickson as soon as he was released from the hospital, and came to Dixon to return him to the Ogle county seat. Erickson was reported to have struck one car on the streets of Oregon, in which a woman and three small children were passengers, tearing off a fender and throwing the car into the ditch. He then proceeded south, it is charged, and after crossing the overhead railroad bridge south of Oregon, hit another car, throwing it into the ditch, continuing his wild ride until he crashed into a deep ditch near Castle Rock. Erickson was taken back to Oregon and placed in the county jail where charges are to be preferred against him this afternoon.

Ran Into Train
A resident of Oregon was reported to have driven into the side of an Illinois Central freight train at the Seventh street crossing in Dixon Saturday night about 11:30, badly damaging the car, but the occupants escaped without injury. Witnesses said that the driver of the car apparently did not observe the train backing up and drove directly into the side of a tank car. The radiator and the hood of the car were torn off, but the driver did not hesitate long enough for the train crew to secure information to make a report of the accident.

Dixon Woman Injured
Mrs. Edwin Rosecrans, wife of Circuit Clerk E. S. Rosecrans, sustained a fracture of the collarbone in an automobile crash on the streets of McHenry Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock. Attorney and Mrs. Grover Gehant and Circuit Clerk and Mrs. E. S. Rosecrans had motored to the lotus beds near Crystal Lake and were returning home when the accident occurred.

At an intersection in McHenry, a Chicago driver failed to stop before entering traffic on a preferential street and crashed into the side of the Gehant car, almost turning it over. Mrs. Rosecrans, who was riding in the rear seat with Mrs. Gehant, was thrown against a fracture of the collar bone on the right side. She was taken to the office of a McHenry physician where the fracture was reduced and later brought to her home in this city. The other passengers were unhurt. None of the windows in either car was broken but the Gehant car was considerably damaged.

Dixon Man Held
Fred Buyers, 1208 Chestnut street, this city was taken in custody by Sheriff Fred Richardson last evening about 8:45 east of the city about a half mile south on state highway Route 2, in response to a call. Buyers, while driving an old truck without lights, was reported to have crashed into cars driven by Louis Wilhelm of this city and John Wilson of Beloit, Wisconsin.

Both passenger cars and the truck were damaged but the occupants escaped without injury. Buyers was arrested and taken to the county jail. He was reported to have been intoxicated at the time of the crashes and Sheriff Richardson will file an information in the county court this afternoon charging drunken driving.

Mr. Bartholme, who was aged 72 years, 8 months and 28 days, was born in Germany and came to the United States with his parents at the age of six months. His entire life from that time was spent in Dixon and community. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Augusta Bartholme; three daughters, Mrs. Clara Johns of Palmyra, Mrs. Pearl Fisher of Nachusa and Mrs. Lena Collins of Dixon; two brothers, Louis of Dixon and August of Nelson; and eight grand children. The obituary will be published later.

New York Police Searching In Realms Of Business, Romance
For Clue In Sanborn's MurderBody Of Railroad Executive Was Found In Dense Thicket

New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Two disclosures heightened interest in the Henry P. Sanborn murder mystery today as police hunted in the realms of business and romance for light on his last days.

1. Sanborn, a 44-year-old railroad executive, twice married, drew $2,000 from the bank on July 17. That was the day he vanished, never to reappear until his body was found Saturday, bullet-riddled and buried in a scooped-out grave in a Queens' thicket.

2. The name of his fiancée—hitherto kept secret—was made public by police. They said she is Magnihild Aismkaar, a Brooklyn interpreter, 27 years old and blonde. Police seeking to interview everyone acquainted with Sanborn, said they desired to question her. They said they understood the Queens district had already examined her.

Sister Puzzled
Mrs. Grant Van Sant, socially prominent sister of the dead man, said she was puzzled by the $2,000 withdrawal. She said that Sanborn, although a man of independent means had never carried much cash with him.

Inspector John J. Gallagher made it clear today that he suspects no one. He added that besides seeking information from the girl, the police would like to question Bancroft Mitchell, described by authorities as a son of William D. Mitchell, former Attorney General of the United States. Gallagher said Mitchell and William McNeil, had been interested with Sanborn in a recent.

OHIO PARENTS
HELD FOR DEATH
OF THEIR BABEMother Repudiated A
Confession And Accuses Sire

Jefferson, O., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Fred J. Bishop, attorney for Mrs. Aletta Fleming, 28, today said she had repudiated her confession to the killing of her four-months old baby and accused her husband, Mertis Fleming, Sr., 55, of the slaying.

"I was afraid of my husband," Bishop quoted her, "I was afraid he'd kill me so I said I strangled Mertie."

"But I didn't do it. My husband did it."

Earlier, Sheriff C. H. Blanche had said Mrs. Fleming told him she killed Mertie Jr. after her husband ordered her to "get rid of the baby" because the child's crying "got on his nerves." Fleming admitted making such a statement, the Sheriff said, but denied any actual knowledge of the baby's strangulation or of criminal causes for the death in November 1932 of Louis Fleming, then four months old.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fleming are held on first degree murder charges.

TO PRESENT PLAY
Dixon Council, Knights of Columbus, have arranged for their annual production home talent play to be presented at the Dixon Theater Tuesday, Sept. 26. The Frederick B. Ingraham Production Company has been secured to present the play, "Circus Solly," with a local cast.

SEEK MISSING BOYS
The police and sheriff have been requested to institute a search for two Dixon youths who left their homes Sunday without announcing their intentions. Junior Bales and Junior Conkrite, aged 12 years, were reported to have been seen having left their homes and the officers have been asked to locate them.

MANY HEARD BAND
A crowd of holiday proportions enjoyed the concert Sunday afternoon at Lowell Park when the Junior Band of this city rendered a fine program under the direction of Russell Mason. The advance of this organization of boys in music has led to the receipt of numerous requests for out of town concerts which have been received by Director Mason. Wednesday evening of this week the band will render a concert at the Congregational Church, which has been requested by residents in the west end of the city.

At the close of Sunday's concert at Lowell Park the band formed two soft ball teams under the names of the Apes and the Monks with Director Mason as umpire. A five inning game was played, which the Apes won by a score of 10 to 8. The young musicians then enjoyed a swim at the beach.

Western Electric
Co. Boosts Wages
New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Western Electric Company announced today an 11 per cent increase in wages and salaries of 15,000 employees, effective as of Aug. 1.

The announcement said this company had signed the President's employment agreement under the industrial recovery act and had granted the pay rise to all hourly employees and to salaried employees receiving up to $3200 annually. The increase affects both men and women employees, and will increase the company's annual payroll $2,250,000.

Waltham, Mass., Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Waltham Watch Company today announced a minimum wage increase of 20 per cent to more than 1500 of its 1600 employees.

An additional increase will be made in cases where the 20 per cent increase does not bring the wage up to the $14 minimum provided in the industrial recovery code.

BULLETIN
Cienfuegos, Cuba, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Incendiaries set fire to the public school and to lumber warehouses today as business in Cienfuegos was paralyzed by the strike. The school burned down but other fires set by the incendiaries were brought in control.

BULLETIN
Havana, Aug. 7.—(AP)—One person was killed and two were wounded today when police at Santiago charged a large demonstration held in connection with the strike which has paralyzed commerce in almost all Cuba.

Havana also was the scene of violence as police, swinging their sticks, forced many small stores to reopen. They clubbed numerous storekeepers and fired their pistols at the doors and windows of several shops.

The Army was being held in reserve for possible use against the strikers.

The belief was freely expressed that the resignation of the government headed by President Machado would result from the strike and the attendant disorders.

Among the storekeepers who reported being attacked by the police in Havana was Jose Lazo, 20, who said he was born in Tampa, Fla., and was a citizen of the United States.

Havana, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The specter of widespread hunger stalked Havana today as a strike in many industries grew apace and a governmental edict warned that troops would be called out to curb increasing violence if police could not handle the situation.

Eating places closed because a walkout of transportation workers, including United Railways employees, prevented them from getting food. Thousands of food handlers were idle, and housewives were frantic as they saw their supplies diminishing.

Street fights and mob demonstrations resulted in the death of one person and injuries to many. The Federated Physicians' organization decided to strike tomorrow, and the National Pharmaceutical Association instructed all but a few drug stores to close.

Everywhere the paralyzing strike was called "a passive revolution" or a race between United States Ambassador Sumner Welles' attempts to mediate the troubled political situation and open revolt. In usually reliable circles it was said President Machado would resign, but this was denied at the palace.

RELIEF AGENCY

Plea Sales Tax Be Turned To Work

At a recent meeting of the Illinois Emergency Relief Committee of Lee County, members of the committee expressed concern regarding needed funds for relief work here and urged that Lee County merchants turn over to the relief committee the money they collected from their customers during the brief tenure of the 3 per cent sales tax which was declared unconstitutional.

Commencing last April 1st and lasting until the middle of June, merchants collected the tax, which was intended for unemployment relief. Some of them have turned their collections over for welfare work, but many of them have not done so. The money is badly needed, and the suggestion is made that those merchants who have not done so, should give those collected taxes to the member of the county committee in their territory or to the supervisor in their township.

The Emergency Relief Committee of Lee County is composed of David H. Spencer, Chairman and George Shaw, Secretary, of Dixon; Gilbert Finch of Amboy; James A. Warren of Paw Paw and William Brucker of China township.

At Large

Five of the most violent criminal type of patients at the Dixon state hospital made a successful break for liberty from the jail ward at the institution at 11:30 last evening with the help of a wrench or pair of pliers, which had been passed in to the jail ward, a heavy wire screen was removed from a window to permit the exit of the five patients.

They left quietly but their absence was quickly noted and reported. Several posses of employees were formed and sent out to search for the fugitives and the local police were notified. They were unable to make very much progress during the night and about 6:30 this morning four of the group were reported walking south along the Illinois Central right of way.

Police and details from the institution responded and when they appeared on the scene, the quartette separated and ran. They were finally rounded up in the vicinity of Haymarket square and returned to their jail ward at the institution.

A fifth inmate of the ward, a negro of the criminal type, refused to accompany the others after they had left the jail ward and selected his own avenue of escape, which was doubtless well planned, as no trace of him had been found today.

Miss Minnie Bope
Of Polo Is Called

(Telegraph Special Service)
Polo, Ill., Aug. 7.—Miss Minnie Bope, for many years a resident of Polo, died last night at her home on South Jackson Street after several months illness.

Miss Bope was born in Xenia, Ohio, August 22, 1860. She came to Polo about 50 years ago and has lived here since. Three nieces and two nephews reside in the vicinity of Polo and a sister, Mrs. Anna Waterbury, died May 8th, this year, in Polo.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 from the home with burial in Fairmont Cemetery.

Stratton Is Out
For State Office
Chicago, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The candidacy of William J. Stratton, former Secretary of State, was already announced today for the Republican nomination as State Treasurer. The primary is not until next April.

Looking ahead to 1934, Stratton in a letter to the Lake County Republican Central Committee, said he considered taxation and "dictatorship" the chief issues of the coming campaign.

"I can not approve the setting up in this country of any kind of dictatorship," he said, "whether by bureaucrats or a so-called brain trust."

News Of Fliers

By The Associated Press
Lieut. Maurice Rossi and Paul Codoc, French fliers who flew the Atlantic and kept on going, today smashed the aerial distance record of 5,340 miles.

Despite a gasoline leak, they landed at Rayak, Syria.

When they left New York Saturday, they had hoped to reach Karachi, India, more than 7,000 miles away, but apparently the loss of gasoline made this impossible.

General Italo Balbo was still at Shoal Harbor, N. F., but hoped to lead his squadron of 24 seaplanes away Wednesday on the homeward journey to Italy by way of the Azores.

Reports from Reykjavik, Iceland, said today that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who is in the north with his wife on an aerial mapping tour, made a daring flight yesterday through fog and rain from Scoresby Sound, East Greenland, to Angmagtsalik, Iceland.

John Gieson, British aviator who is making a leisurely flight from England to New York, arrived yesterday at Thorshavn, Faeroe Islands, from the Orkney Islands.

BULLETIN
Damascus, Syria, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The government was advised that Maurice Rossi and Paul Codoc, French airmen who took off from New York Saturday, landed at Rayak military airfield, 130 kilometers (79 miles) from here at 6:10 P. M. G. M. T. (12:10 CST) today.

Government officials declared that the world distance record had been broken.

A message received when the plane was flying over Latakia, Syria, said:

"In one hour we will land at Rayak as the result of very abnormal gasoline consumption. Nevertheless, the Joseph Le Brix (the name of the plane), despite 1,000 hours of flight and eleven departures with full loads, has linked New York and Beirut in 55 hours. Long live French wings! Long live Syria! Long live France!"

FOURTEEN SHOT

Wounded In Saturday's
Vote

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Fourteen slayings, most of them attributed to quarrels over Saturday's state-wide primary election occurred over the week-end in Kentucky mountain counties. In addition ten were wounded.

The total was believed to be a record for the state. Most of the shootings were in isolated communities, attributed by officers either to intense feeling over county races, to renewal of old grudges on meeting at the polls, and in at least one instance to a quarrel over a liquor deal.

The total was increased to 14 by the deaths today of Brown Strickland, 54, in Breathitt county, and Frank Brock, 23, in Bell county.

National Guardsmen were on duty in Harlan county during the primary Saturday and one detachment remained there today as tabulation was started. Two of the 14 slayings occurred in Harlan shortly before the primary.

In addition to nominations for the House and half the Senate of the General Assembly all counties had nominations for county officers and fair weather and intense interest indicated that in many of them a record-breaking vote had been cast.

BULLETIN
Washington, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Justice Cox of the District of Columbia Supreme Court this afternoon ordered Frank Zimmerman, Chicago gangster, removed to Illinois to stand trial on a charge of participating in the $32,000 robbery of the Union National Bank of Stretator and kidnapping a bank officer.

Zimmerman, alias Frank Schneider, was arrested here Tuesday while working as a garage manager. Sheriff E. J. Welter of Ottawa, Ill., came here Friday with an armed car to take Zimmerman into custody.

Questioned in jail Zimmerman denied ever knowing Brown, who was shown with him in a Chicago police lineup photograph when being questioned about the robbery.

(Telegraph Special Service)

Oregon, Aug. 7.—Eugene Welsh of Oregon fought a short-one round bout with three Ogle county residents, then unknowingly started hitting and kicking Sheriff Frank Murray and his chief deputy Delos Blanchard Sunday morning about 2:30, the action being staged at the Chuck's Inn south of Oregon on the Black Hawk trail. Welsh was finally halted in his tirade and the two officials planned to take him to the county jail. He was released late Sunday to appear Wednesday morning for trial.

The trouble, according to reports, started in the Inn and the three Ogle countyites invited Welsh outside to finish the affair. Sheriff Frank Murray and his chief deputy Delos Blanchard were sitting in the sheriff's car in the driveway in front of the place, where they had come in response to a report that trouble was brewing.

One of the outside, the fight started with the three attempting unsuccessfully to combat the lone Dixonite. Welsh was making rapid inroads when the sheriff and his deputy intervened to put a stop to the battle. Sheriff Murray was the first to be struck and was kicked under the chin. Chief Deputy Delos Blanchard stepped into the range and he received the full force of another kick just above the belt. According to Sheriff Murray, it was necessary to render Welsh unconscious before he could be handled by the officers.

Postal Inspector Puts Proviso On Promise
Of Indictment

New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Police Inspector John A. Lyons today predicted an indictment and conviction in the tear gassing of the New York Stock Exchange "if the Boston witnesses come forward."

The Inspector's statement was made after he had received a personal report of an investigation conducted in Boston by Lieutenant Charles Newman.

Lieutenant Newman dug up plenty of evidence in Boston. Inspector Lyons said, "I am satisfied that if the Boston witnesses come forward an indictment and conviction will follow."

Lyons did not specifically mention in his statement Eugene S. Daniels, Jr., 26, leader of an obscure political party, who was arrested Saturday on a charge of placing the two tear gas bombs that resulted in the closing of the Stock Exchange shortly after noon Friday. Daniels, whose home is in Somerville, Mass., was held in Tombs prison in default of $10,000 bail.

While the investigation into Kinney's account as Finance Director involved a shortage totalling more than $500,000 he was charged in the grand jury indictment with failure to turn over but $173,832.53.

Rock Island, Ill., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Mayor Clarence Hodson, 40, of Rock Island died unexpectedly at his home at 3 A. M. today. He had been ill since June 10 when he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

He was taken suddenly ill about 10 P. M. last night while sleeping.

He was elected last April and had served until his illness.

Rep. Acker Died
At Savanna Home
Savannah, Ill., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Representative John Acker, Republican, serving his fifth consecutive term from the twelfth Illinois Senatorial district, died at his home yesterday.

He entered business upon leaving college and eventually became president of the Culter & Proctor Stove Company and a director of two Peoria banks. He was married to Miss Mary Bishop Colburn, a Peoria belle.

Upon the election of Charles S. Denen as Governor, Kinney became a member of the board of control of Pontiac reformatory. He was State Treasurer during 1927 and 28, the last two years of Len Small's term as Governor, and was made Director of Finance by Louis L. Emmerson, Small's successor.

TO SUE ESTATE
Chicago, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Attorney General Otto Kerner said today the state would attempt to collect from the estate of the late Garrett De Forrest Kinney the amount which the former State Director of Finance was short in his accounts.

"We shall file claim immediately against the estate," Kerner said. "If there is sufficient seizable property, I am confident we will collect."

The Twenty-Third Psalm
The Lord is my shepherd: I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: Thou anonist my head with oil, my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

Missionary Groups Guests in Princeton

Walnut—The Woman's Missionary Society ladies of the Christian church were guests Thursday afternoon of the Missionary Society of the Christian church in Princeton. The New Bedford society were also guests. A feature of the program was a talk by Miss Julia Christiansen, returned missionary from Burma.

Supplementary numbers on the program were an organ prelude by Martha June Ponder; devotionals by Mrs. T. W. Bass of Walnut; dramatizations, "The Mountain Girl" and "Candle Light," read by Miss Ruth Anderson; solo numbers "Love Divine," and a negro spiritual, "Hard Trials," sung by Mrs. Jesse Hillard.

A fellowship hour and refreshments completed the afternoon. Those from Walnut attending included: Mrs. Lucile Burke, Mrs. Ida Fisher, Mrs. Mary Frederick, Mrs. Lily Kelly, and son, Hazel Burley, Mrs. T. W. Bass, Mrs. Pauline Bass, Mrs. Louis Wallis, Mrs. Lola Stone and Mrs. Martha Walrath.

BEACH FROCK DESIGNED OF YELLOW PIQUE—

PARIS—AP—The Marquise de Jaucourt is among the Parisians who have chosen beach frocks instead of pajamas for wear on the sands, included in her beach wardrobe is a dress of yellow pique designed with a bare back and a full ankle-length skirt. With it she wears a wide-brimmed hat of yellow pique to match.

GOWN FASHIONED OF MOUSSELINE DE SOIE—

WASHINGTON—AP—For a garden dinner at her summer home Mrs. Stephen W. Gambrell, wife of the Representative from Maryland, wore a long, fitted gown of red and white polka-dot mousseline de soie.

Tested RECIPES

By Mrs. Alexander George
MOTOR PICNIC MENU
The Menu
Tomato Juice
Sliced Tongue and Ham
Potato Vegetable Salad
Buttered Buns
Pickles Olives
Peach Ice Cream
Chocolate Cookies
Coffee

Carry the tomato juice and coffee in vacuum jars. Have a gallon jug or bottle of cold water. Place the salad in a glass jar and wrap it in cold cloths and it will remain cool for some time. Take the crisp lettuce in a glass jar.

Butter the buns and wrap them in waxed papers. They can be served plain or used with the meat slices for sandwiches. The olives and pickles can be mixed and placed in a small jar.

The ice cream, if properly packed in the freezer, will keep a long time. The cookies should be packed in a box which will keep them moist and fresh. A tin or small cookie jar can be used.

Potato Vegetable Salad
Serving eight
3 cups diced cooked potatoes
3 hard boiled eggs
1/2 cup cooked peas
3 tablespoons chopped onions
2 tablespoons chopped pimientos
2 tablespoons chopped green peppers

1/2 cup diced cucumbers
1/2 cup diced celery
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 cup salad dressing
Mix ingredients with fork. Pour into glass jar, cover and store in ice box until picnic time.

Chocolate Cookies (3 dozen)
1 cup fat
2 cups sugar
3 squares chocolate
5 tablespoons cream
3 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
4 cups flour

Cream fat and sugar. Mix 4 tablespoons of this mixture with the chocolate and cream. Cook slowly, stir constantly until chocolate has melted, beat one minute, add eggs and soda, pour at once into remaining sugar mixture. Add rest of ingredients. Mix lightly and chill dough. Drop portions from end of spoon onto greased baking sheets, bake 10 minutes in moderate oven. Cool and frost.

Lenore Ulric, Actress to Be Divorced

Hollywood, Calif., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Lenore Ulric, actress, is about to climax her separation agreement of last October with her actor husband, Sidney Blackmer, in a Mexican divorce court.

It was the old struggle between a home and a career, I regret very much that the divorce suit has come but I will not contest it.

The two played opposite each other for a number of years before their marriage in May, 1929.

Wednesday Ladies' Day Country Club

Wednesday will be ladies' day at the Dixon Country Club, and a large attendance is desired. Luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock that day, instead of 12:30, the usual hour. The ladies will start to play for the president's trophy at 12:30. All ladies attending the luncheon, please call Mrs. Talty at the club by 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. All ladies who will play golf and not attend the luncheon please call Eddie Worley at K102. Mrs. C. A. Buchner will have charge for the day.

Two Anniversaries Happily Observed

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rhodes and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heckman were all delightfully surprised on Tuesday evening of last week at the Rhodes home when neighbors and friends to the number of sixty planned and carried out a surprise for them. It was the thirty-fifth anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes and the fortieth anniversary for the Heckmans. Such a jolly evening as all spent in games and music and cards, and later delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, and at a late hour all departed for their homes wishing the Rhodes and the Heckmans many happy returns of the day.

Birthday Mr. Richardson Is Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Wilder Richardson of Compton and family; Mr. and Mrs. George Schnuckle and daughter of West Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. William Dauntler and County Treasurer and Mrs. Sterling D. Schrock and son Junior of Dixon enjoyed a family picnic at Lowell park yesterday. The event honored the birthday anniversary of Mr. Richardson.

Reunion of Witty Family Lowell Park

A reunion of the Witty family with most of the relatives arriving from the sections of Freeport and McElroy, was held Sunday at Lowell Park. There were twenty-nine in attendance and a very happy day was spent with games and a delicious dinner at noon. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sargent and children were present from Dixon.

REUNION OF SISTERS AT SCHUMM HOME—

DEPRESSION'S EFFECT ON CHILDREN.

One of the most unfortunate consequences of the depression is now becoming apparent in measurable degree—its adverse effect on the health of children.

Not so long ago the country was being assured that public health was better than it was in the days before the question of where to get food became a problem for millions of persons. Many doubted these optimistic statements, but figures were offered to support them.

Now we are being told a different story. The Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor finds that one-fifth of the nation's children are "below par," and the depression is directly blamed for this condition.

Material has been collected over a period of two years, and the conclusion is reached that one child in five of preschool and school age is suffering from the effects of poor nutrition, inadequate housing, or lack of medical care. In many instances, anxiety and the feeling of worry, where there was no work, have also left marks.

Naturally localities where conditions have been more favorable and where relief measures have been adequate make the best showing. In other localities the proportion of children below par has reached "truly appalling figures." And malnutrition among mothers is showing its effects on new-born infants and nurslings, although relief agencies for the most part have been successful in supplying sufficient milk for babies.

In New York City, malnutrition among 300,000 school children has been in three successive years 16, 17 and 21 per cent.

The picture is not a pretty one, but consolation may be found in the fact that relief agencies did their best to meet staggering responsibilities for which they were unprepared.

Now that millions of men are returning to work and their wages are increasing fewer children will suffer. As relief rolls shrink, the task of caring for those in need will become much easier. The problem of relief will remain for a long time to come, however, and children should be the last to suffer.

TWELVE-TO-ONE ODDS.

The best thing for the average man to do is to stay from the stock market, says a mathematics professor who has figured out that the odds are 12 to 1 against the little fellow who is trying to make a killing.

The advice is sound, as everyone knows, although many will be surprised that the professor's computations give the small fry as much of a chance as they do.

It is a pretty safe bet, however, that the professor's admonitions won't be widely heeded, even if they are based on mathematics.

Back at the time of wild stock gambling a few years ago, almost everybody was in the market, and many paper fortunes were made. When the collapse came, thousands of persons were wiped out. Never again, they said, and meant it—then.

But the recent stock boom saw the amateurs plunging again. Memories of a few years ago yielded to the lure of quick and easy money. There seems to be no cure for the optimism of the individual who is ready enough to concede that stock gambling is bad business, but who persists in the hope that he will not be among the hapless dozen who get trimmed.

HOW MUCH SHOULD BEER COST?

How much should the thirsty citizen pay for his scuttle of beer?

Should he be able to get it for a nickel—with free lunch thrown in—as in the old days?

There has been much discussion of that question, and complaints that prices were too high.

Here's what The Brewing Industry, a trade magazine, has to say on the subject:

"A 31-gallon barrel of beer cost $4, according to estimates, which with the federal tax of $5, brings the cost to $9. A price to restaurants and hotels of $15 would allow a profit to the retailer if 5 cents a glass were charged, and also allow the brewery a good profit."

Unfortunately, The Brewing Industry doesn't tell how much brewers actually are charging. And of course state and local taxes must be added in most places.

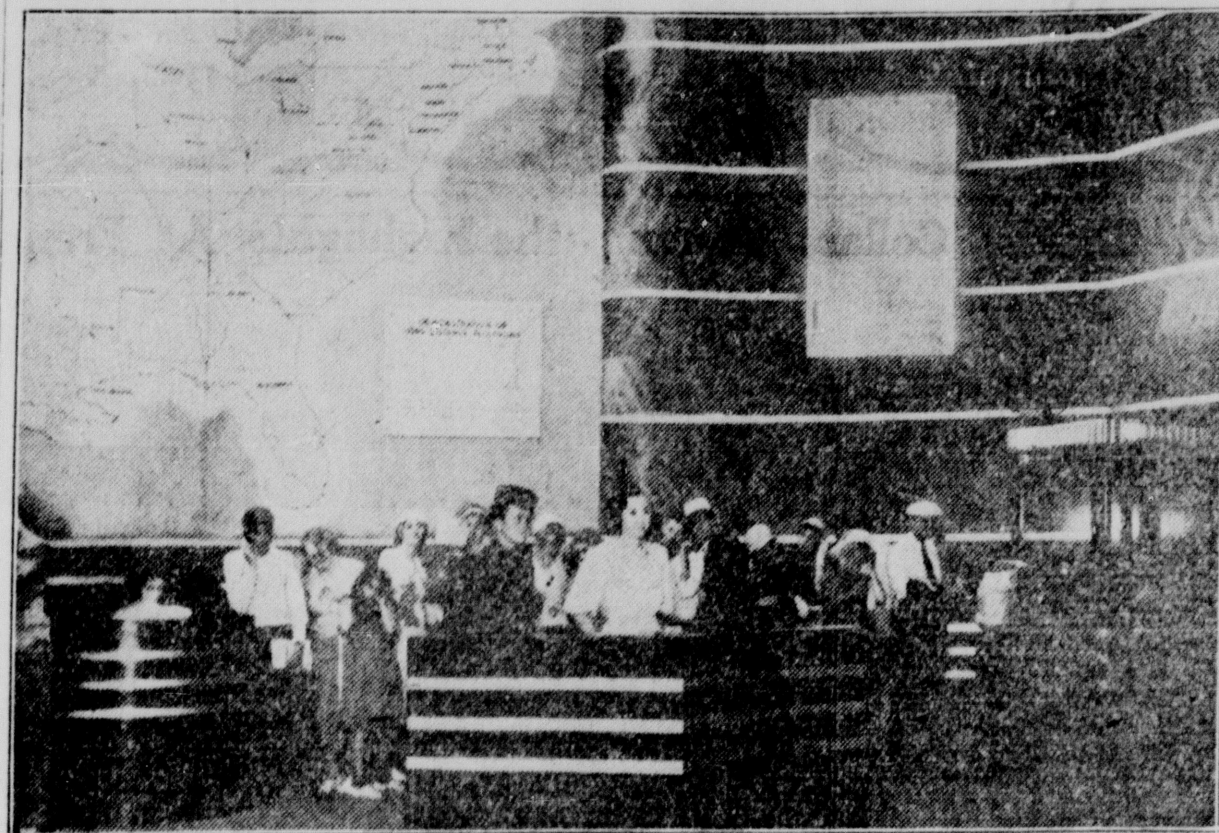

It has often puzzled me why fear of change and desire for permanence should be so strong in us. All our experience proclaims their futility.—Miss I. A. M. Wylie, British novelist.

If you just have to go around smacking cops when you are in Europe, don't monkey with the civil guard in Spain.—Talbot Mundy, author.

Our age is changing so fast we don't know how we are, where we are, or where we are going.—Rt. Rev. John Newton McCormick, bishop of Western Michigan.

The long-discussed revolution is actually under way in the United States.—Donald Richberg, NRA general counsel.

Long Distance Calls Free at World's Fair

You can talk to your sweetie in Los Angeles or your spouse in New York city for nothing in this exhibit of the Bell Telephone company at the Chicago World's Fair—A Century of Progress—if you're willing to let 25 or 30 others listen in. Calls can be made to any of 56 large American cities. The man in the booth at the extreme right is making one of the free calls, while the persons lining the back wall listen. The path of the call can be traced on the big map at the left.

CLEVERNESS AND CULTURE

(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton.)

"It's like drinking a cocktail," said my friend, "if you know what I mean. It pleases, surprises, stimulates, but the effect soon wears off. Then you are back where you were, only more so."

What is like a cocktail? I ventured to ask. "And what do I know about such things, any way? A man cannot be an expert in more than one field. If you have a lucid moment, tell me what it's about."

"Oh Yeah!" he said, impudently. "Our new style of books is what I had in mind, those of Aldous Huxley and the like. They sparkle, dazzle and tickle, but when the first effect has worn off and you have time to think about it, there is very little in what they say."

"Maybe," I suggested, "that is the real difference between cleverness and culture. One peps you up the other lifts you up. One only amuses, while the other inspires. One is glitter, the other gold. One depends on verbal wit, the other has substance in it."

"The difference," he added, "between an epigram and an aphorism—one is witty and the other, wise. Perhaps the final test of a book or any ideal is the amount of afterthought it will bear."

"People can be so divided, too," he went on, "impishly. A brilliant person blinds us, charms us, sweeps us off our feet. At first he makes a big impression, but it does not last. The glitter fades. There is not enough substance in his personality. It's all show-window."

"Exactly," I agreed, "while others who do not make so much of a hit wear better. There is something solid and lasting in them to lay hold of, depend upon, and tie to. They make the best companions and friends."

"Why not go further?" he asked. "If we divide our friends into one class or the other, why not our beliefs too? Surely the best test of a faith is that the more one thinks of it, the more substance it has.

"That tells it perfectly," we both agreed. "That is the final proof of the great and simple words of Jesus—they bear the test of ages of hard thinking. A clever creed will not do—truth is not clever!"

WHAT CAUSES GALLSTONES

Sedentary habits, want of exercise, obesity and disease conditions which necessitate a quiet life dispose to gallstones.

The want of exercise usually results in infrequent and feeble contractions of the abdominal muscles and as a result bile is not expelled so frequently or so efficiently from the gall-bladder. This in part explains why gallstones are so rare in outdoor laborers and so common in women.

Sitting upright and leaning forward over a desk also hamper the gall-bladder in its attempt to empty itself. The recumbent position in an easy chair favors the flow of bile out of the gall-bladder.

Tight lacing, once so common and now, fortunately, so rare, by displacing the abdominal organs and by subjecting them to pressure, interferes with the normal emptying of the gall bladder and favors the formation of stones.

The dietary factor in gallstones is of importance. Many gallstones contain a substance called cholesterol. This substance is widely distributed in the body and is also found in a variety of foods, particularly in fats, yolk of egg, cream and butter.

Excessive eating, sedentary habits, constipation, attacks of indigestion which lead to catarrhal involvement of the gastro-intestinal tract and affect the gall bladder, all favor the formation of gallstones.

There also appears to be a relationship between pregnancy and gallstones. It has been estimated that 30 per cent of women with gallstones have borne children; also, gallstones are 10 times more common among those who have borne children.

Gallstones are relatively rare in those under 20 years of age. The vast majority of sufferers are over 40 years. The condition is substantially more common among women than among men.

This is accounted for by the feebleness of the female abdominal wall, the sedentary life led by many women, constipation, pregnancy and the frequency of infection in the female pelvic organs.

Tomorrow—Hunger and Appetite

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington — It is necessary for one to be in the capital himself to appreciate fully the terrific pace at which the various activities of the new administration are moving during these sultry days of a humid Washington summer.

There has been nothing like it since World War days. Hotel proprietors report they are doing a business unrivaled since then. Restaurant owners tell of hiring extra help. With thousands of taxicabs on the streets, operators are preparing to send out more.

Thousands flock in by plane and train to see about the NRA, patronage or other things. Telegraph companies report increases in daily messages filed out of the capital.

The old adage, so familiar to residents of Washington, that "with congress out of town, things slow down," has been completely discarded this summer. In the agriculture adjustment administration, where are handled the contracts for reduction of cotton acreage, so terrific was the heat and so great the necessity for speed, that the other night two workers were overcome and 25 others were treated for near-prostration.

TUNING UP—

Wheels of that vast, complicated and largely untried mechanism set up by the special session of congress are all turning at top speed. The job of putting theory into practice is at hand. The stage of theorizing and legislative maneuvering is passing—at least for the time being.

This is the day of the administrators, the coordinators and what have you?

Where it is all to end, no one as yet can say. Even those most intimately concerned with the administration of the new regulatory laws make no attempt to conceal anxiety over this admittedly, the crucial phase of the new deal. New problems arise daily as new agencies spring into being to cope with them.

So much hangs on administrative skill. Of that everyone is conscious.

GROWING AND SWELLING—

President Wilson is said to have once remarked, while discussing the men that he had named to high government posts in his administration, that "while some grew, others merely swelled."

President Roosevelt has watched first from the Amberjack II, then the White House and now from Hyde Park, how his subordinates are discharging their duties.

Has he been anxious, watching this in who he has placed such responsibility to see whether they grow or merely swell.

WATER CARNIVAL WILL BE STUNT DURING JAMBOREE

Boy Scouts Will Have A Great Time Aug. 18 At Rockford

Sea Scouts are planning a water carnival for the afternoon of Aug. 18, to be given on Rock River, between Jefferson and State street bridges, Rockford. In order to make the Boy Scout Jamboree, which opens next week interesting to Sea Scouts the water carnival, has been included in the Jamboree program.

At 2 P. M., canoe races will take place, followed by a cutter race. The Sea Scouts will then give an exhibition of throwing buoys at manikins in the river. Most enlightening and educational part of the afternoon's program is the breeches buoy demonstration at 3:30. This will be staged by members of the Sea Scout Ship Lioness of Rockford, and consists of towing people from the middle of the river to the shore by means of rope tied on to breeches. The practicality of Sea Scout training in rescuing lives from a sinking ship at sea will thus be demonstrated.

The Sea Scouts will also form the escort ceremonial for the Golden Arch Court of Honor at Rockford High School Stadium at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, Aug. 18. The Stadium Show will be the last big gun of the Jamboree, and promises to be the largest show of Scouting that the Black Hawk Area has ever put on. A speaker from National Headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America will be present. Winners of the Jamboree contests at Camp Pinehurst, 36 in number, will demonstrate their events. It is planned to run the show in the fashion of a three ring circus.

At the Court of Honor seven Scouts will receive the Eagle award the highest of Scouting's ranks. Many others will be honored with advancements in rank, and special recognition will be given to all newly registered Scouts who have passed their Tenderfoot tests. The troop which wins the competition at the Jamboree and which will be treated to a banquet at the Nelson Hotel, at 6 o'clock, Friday evening, will have a special section of the Stadium reserved for them.

All current developments on the Jamboree are given out to the field every Tuesday and Thursday at 4 o'clock, in the form of a dialogue radio program over station KFLV, Rockford.

To date 38 troops have stated they will enter the Jamboree. The ones which have signed up just the past week, and not previously announced are, Troop 25, 29, 37, 127 of Rockford; 61, Belvidere, 80, Capron; 109, Belvidere; 111, New Milford; 112, Chana; 131, Elaine; 132, Boone County Line.

EDSON W. WAITE
Shawnee, Okla.

J. W. Hanson, editor of the New Smyrna (Florida) Daily News, says:

"The trouble with the spasmoid advertiser is that he believes that it reaches farther than it actually does. He often has the notion that three or four good ads a year are going to stamp upon the mind of every buyer the fact that he has goods of good quality and at right prices in a way that that impression will never wear off."

But human minds are not that way; they are easy to divert from one thing to another by an honest and attractive appeal through the medium of newspaper advertising, unless the impression has been made over a period of many years.

"Advertising affects the mind of a buyer in much the same manner as a stream of water on a rock. If the rock had the sense to know, it would realize in the first time a drop of water fell upon it, but it takes millions of years to wear an impression in the rock that will last."

"Spasmoid advertising only muddles the mind; constant advertising from day to day and from year to year wears an impression that lives as long as the impression in the rock."

MIGHTY ALICE, LARGEST ELEPHANT ON TOUR, WEIGHT 4½ TONS

Texas Ted Lewis, born and raised on the plains near Amarillo, Texas, will be in Dixon next Wednesday with his congress of cowboys and cowgirls from all parts of the west when Barnett Bros. Big Three Ring Circus and Menagerie will exhibit at Van Buren Street.

The cowboys will depict all the sports and pastimes of the old western plains. Texas Ted will give an exhibition of the type of wild and daring riding on the backs of outlawed bucking horses which has made the American cowboy the gallant and romantic figure he is today.

Other features of the wild west besides the break riding, include wild steer riding, horse catching, trick and fancy roping, Australian whip cracking and trick and fancy rifle shooting.

DIXON SOLDIERS HAD PRACTICE ON RANGE LAST WEEK

Fourteen Of Guardsmen From Co. A Qualify With Automatic

By Sgt. Wolfe and Corp. Ketchen

Camp Grant, Aug. 6—Friday proved to be a worthy day to Company A in the art of shooting the automatic rifle. Captain Dixon being one to qualify with the automatic also supervised the qualifying of the following men, Corporals Wood, Julian, and Ketchen. Privates White, Culver, Hensler, McGinnis, Moly, Zimudka, Wood-yard, Barnes, Howard and Westfall. While the men were doing their shooting on the range the pit detail, which is an important factor in shooting, was being run by Lieut. Wimpelberg. He was awarded with a compliment stating that the pit was run as efficiently as possible.

Lieut. Austin blossomed out with a new pair of riding boots. The boots were decorated with a shiny spurs. We don't know what he will do with this outfit but has been offered a horse from Sgt. Rogers' father's farm as soon as the harvest is over.

Tomorrow the company will stand the annual field inspection. The boys have been busy for the past few days shining up their equipment. We hope to have the same honor this year as last year as we held high honors for the regiment.

The company is upset in regards to our Corporal Hollingsworth as he spends most of his time combing his wavy red hair. Some of the boys want to cut it short and some would like to shave it off. This will be decided later.

Private John Flock of Pole who is a new member of the company and was not in good health when he came to camp is very much on the mend. Yesterday he received a big package which some of the boys wanted to examine but failed to do so. John has found out in spite of the fact that our camp mess is very good that you can't beat home cooking.

Sgt. Ramsey, Hefley Brown and Corporal Ketchen asked for the day off but were refused by Sgt. Handel. The boys wanted to attend the circus in Rockford and be there to carry water to the elephants and in this manner see the show free. This evening they were greatly surprised when Sgt. Handel gave each of them sixty cents and the night out. Fifty cents was to be used to see the circus and ten cents for peanuts to feed the monkeys.

The company was set at ease yesterday when Private James Hudson reenlisted for another year. James Texas Ted will bring to Dixon some of the old original Texas long horn steers which once roamed the western plains in countless herds but which are now almost extinct along with the buffalo. The cowboys will ride these big steers in the performance here.

As previously announced the large street parade will leave the show grounds promptly at noon to wind over the business section of the city. This will mark the first circus parade to be held in Dixon in a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cinnamon paid their annual visit to camp today. Bill was the Mess Sergeant of this company for two years and a good one at that.

Shortening of Stores' Operating Hours Held Violation of Contract

Gen. Johnson Warns Insignia May Be Taken Away

Washington, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The plea to "buy because buying supports your job" started today the Recovery Administration's attempt to utilize the increased purchasing power it feels is being created by hour-shortening and wage-raising agreements of the government with business and industry.

Along with that request from Hugh S. Johnson, Recovery Administrator, went this boycott threat: "Where should you spend? Can there be any question? You should spend under the blue eagle. If you spend there you are spending for increased employment. If you spend elsewhere you are hurting the chance to end unemployment because you are helping to destroy the business of the men who are paying more for help, you are aiding them who refuse to do so."

The "buy now" campaign had been in contemplation for some time. But for a while the Recovery Administration feared production was increasing too fast for purchasing power—that more goods were being manufactured than could be bought.

Temporary agreements with the President to raise pay and shorten hours, pending development of permanent codes of fair competition with the same objective, were offered business and industry.

Five Permanent Codes Yesterday Johnson looked over the score sheet. He found five industries—cotton textiles, coats and suits, shipbuilding, electrical manufacturing and woolen textiles, each employing thousands—operating under permanent codes.

He found 26 other groups working additional thousands, functioning under the temporary agreements. That was enough, he concluded, so he sent his first "buy now" message to a Cleveland mass meeting.

Continuing through the week, speakers will emphasize that same message. Through their pleas will run this line spoken by Johnson: "Turn your money into things because, almost before you can draw breath, the things you want will be worth more than the money you can save by not buying."

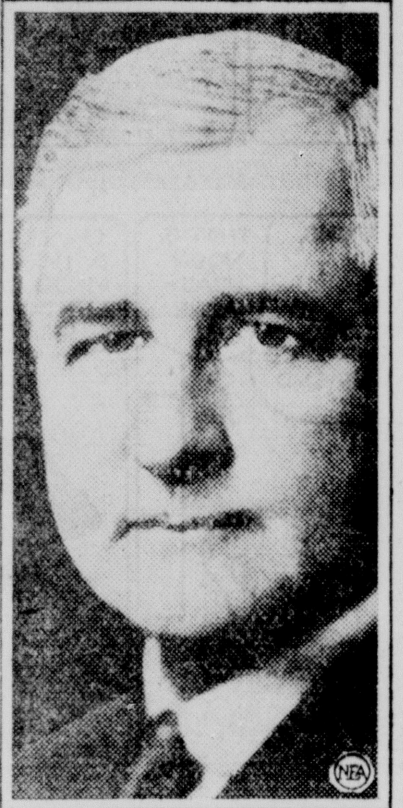

Arbitrary Board Meets Meantime, today, the new presidential board named to arbitrate labor difficulties, was called into its first meeting, to make preliminary surveys of causes behind various strikes, big and small, and the attempt to arbitrate the causes into nothingness.

Such arbitration, by another group, brought an official end to the Pennsylvania bituminous coal mine walk-out. Some miners, stirred by Communists and still "scarred, clubbed and wounded," said President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America, are hanging back. But he predicted that after they thought it over, they would return to work.

To Readjust Contracts In today's picture there also was a personal promise by President Roosevelt to business men who have contracts with the government to allow for rising prices. To retailers making local agreements to cut hours of operation, Johnson sent a warning that they must take care or lose the blue eagle.

Their temporary code, he reminded, was approved with the understanding that the average hours of retail store operation should be around 63.

"The proposal to shorten hours is in violation of the President's re-employment agreement," he messaged the Indiana Retail Grocers Association. "Reconsideration of the provisions of the (temporary) retail codes and possible withdrawal of insignia will be necessary immediately if community or concerted action to shorten store operating hours is taken."

In "All Men Are Enemies," Richard Aldington studies the plight of the man who is born into the world with an instinctive readiness to respond to beauty in all of its guises.

Such a man, he says, lives more deeply, more vividly than ordinary mortals. Beauty excites him, ugliness wounds him; he knows the peaks of ecstasy and the depths of despair. And because his values are not those of his fellows the world usually gangs up on him and lets him have it back of the ear.

Mr. Aldington tells the story of that kind of man. The lad grows up sensitive and lonely, realizing that the world is waiting to waylay him with a blunt instrument; but he meets an Austrian girl while vacationing on an island in the Mediterranean, and he believes that she will be able to help him build the kind of life he must have.

Unluckily, this meeting takes place in the spring of 1914, and the war is on before he can join her. The war wounds him—just as it wounded Mr. Aldington, in all of whose books the thudding of the guns is a sombre background. After it is over, fate does its best to make an English Babbitt out of

Short Items Of News Concerning State Legion Meet

Hotel accommodations already applied for indicate that the state American Legion convention to be held at Rockford, Aug. 26 to 29 will be the largest ever held by the Illinois department. Wisconsin and Iowa as well as Indiana service men who trained at Camp Grant are planning to attend the big Illinois meeting.

As a tribute to the memory of the Rev. N. A. Clinch, former chaplain of the 129th Illinois Infantry, war time members of the old military unit will erect a beautiful memorial chapel at Camp Grant. The cornerstone will be laid with appropriate ceremony during the state convention of the American Legion at Rockford, Aug. 26 to 29.

Resolved to make the 1933 state convention of the American Legion of Illinois a historical event, Rockford, the convention city is planning to entertain convention visitors in a gala carnival fashion. Free vaudeville shows, speedboat races, water, track and field sports and a series of gay social events are planned in addition to the usual convention features.

The date of the annual Trask Bridge Picnic, said to be the greatest one-day fair staged in the United States, has been postponed from August 26 to August 31 this year to avoid a conflict with the dates of the Illinois State Legion convention which is to be held at Rockford Aug. 26-29. The big picnic, staged by the Burrill Grange a few miles west of Rockford, annually attracts from 25,000 to 30,000 visitors.

Clown bands, freak floats and all variety of burlesque attraction from all parts of Illinois will participate in the big fun-making jamboree of the Forty and Eight organization of the American Legion which is to be one of the opening features of the state convention to be held by the Legion at Rockford this month. The convention opens Aug. 26 for a four-day session.

Members of the old war-time 129th Illinois Infantry regiment from 42 points in the central west will gather at Rockford Sunday, Aug. 27, to participate in the regimental annual reunion. The event will be staged the second day of the Illinois American Legion convention. Members of the 33rd division and the 89th or Blackhawk division also are planning reunions during the big convention.

Freddy Ramer, 300-pound veteran of the 10th division which trained under Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood at Camp Funston, Kas., is sending out an S. O. S. call from Rockford this week to see how many members of his outfit he can gather together for a reunion during the 1933 Illinois state Legion convention, Aug. 26 to 29. Ramer states that hundreds of members of the division are now residing in Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois and Missouri.

Floyd Gibbons, famous war correspondent and world renowned radio newscaster, is expected to broadcast the official report of the big American Legion parade which will be staged during the state convention at Rockford Aug. 26 to 29. Gibbons now is engaged for Century of Progress broadcasts at Chicago.

him; and the English kind, evidently, is as dull as our own.

In the end he breaks away, and in his wandering to find his own soul, again he finds his Austrian girl. And the book becomes not so much a romance as a hymn to the life that is lived fully and bravely—a book which, in spite of a number of defects, will please a few readers very deeply.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Spirit" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ Scientist, on Sunday, August 6, 1933.

The Golden Text was, "Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: thy spirit is good" (Psalms 143:10). Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God" (1 Cor. 2:9, 10).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The only excuse for entertaining human opinions and rejecting the Science of being is our mortal ignorance of Spirit,—ignorance which yields only to the understanding of divine Science, the understanding by which we enter into the kingdom of Truth on earth and learn that Spirit is infinite and supreme" (p. 280).

ARIZONA WILL VOTE ON REPEAL ACT TOMORROW

Will Probably Become 21st State To Ratify Amendment

Phoenix, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Arizona voters will decide tomorrow whether this state is to become the twenty-first in the union to sanction repeal of the 18th Amendment.

Having lost, five days before election, a court battle to restrain the casting of ballots, anti-repeal forces conceded that the popular vote of the state likely would be overwhelmingly in favor of ratification.

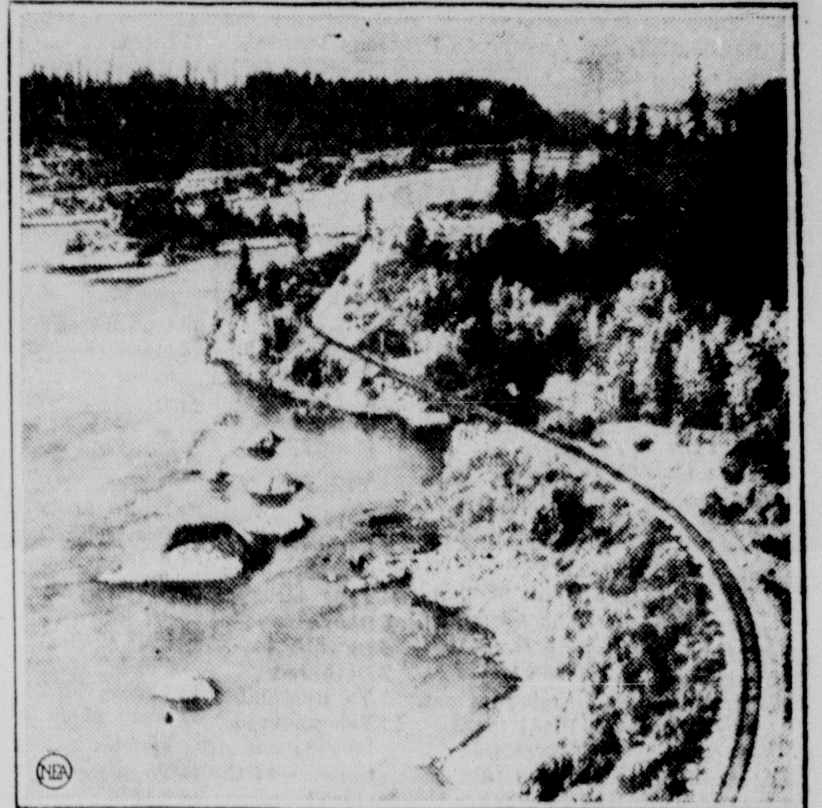

In a contest at the polls, "dry" forces are confronted not only with a record of a two to one vote by which the state prohibition enforcement laws were repealed last November, but with the fact that theirs must be a write-in campaign for convention delegates.

Under an enactment of a recent special session of the eleventh Arizona legislature, fourteen delegates—one from each county—were to be nominated by counties and elected by a vote of the state-at-large, en bloc.

No anti-repeal candidate was nominated in any county. Official ballots, started on their way to polling places as soon as the smoke of an injunction battle had cleared, contained the names of fourteen delegates only, all pledged to repeal. Blank spaces are there, however, for the use of voters desiring to write in "dry" names.

In nine counties no candidates appeared to contest for seats at the convention. In five others, candidates did circulate petitions, but in no case were they able to obtain sufficient signatures to certify their names to the ballot.

Site of $63,000,000 Columbia Dam

Across the Columbia River at this point, near Bonneville, Ore., a $63,000,000 hydro-electric dam will be built by the federal government in fulfillment of President Roosevelt's promise of cheap power for the Pacific northwest. Railroad tracks, shown in the picture, will be tunneled through the rocks to make way for the 145-foot dam.

appeared to contest for seats at the convention. In five others, candidates did circulate petitions, but in no case were they able to obtain sufficient signatures to certify their names to the ballot.

The court fight to prevent a popular vote on repeal started shortly after the regular session of the legislature had enacted a statute setting up machinery for an election.

●ABOVE—IN RATING THE POPULAR CIGARETTES, Shute says, "Camels are milder, and what is even more important to any golfer, they do not jangle the nerves."

●ABOVE—TWO CONTINENTS CHEERED when slender Densmore Shute, brilliant young American golfer, with wrists of steel and nerves that never wavered, won the British Open—the tenth American champion in ten years!

●RIGHT—"I'M NOT A CHAMPION GOLFER—not even a fair one, according to Mr. Shute's standards! I'm a young married woman, interested in home and children. But I'm inclined to be the nervous type. So I switched to Camels, for the sake of my nerves, and because Camels are definitely a milder cigarette."

How are Your Nerves?

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

When it comes to healthy nerves, "DENNY" SHUTE speaks with authority. "I couldn't have won the British Open if my nerves hadn't been in perfect condition," says Shute. "Healthy nerves are essential to any golfer who wants to turn in a good score. The enjoyment of cigarettes has not interfered with my golf game because I have smoked Camels right along. I have tried all the brands and long ago found that Camels are milder, and what is even more important to any golfer, they do not jangle the nerves."

"Denny" Shute offers conclusive evidence that Camels are milder. That they don't interfere with healthy nerves. That smokers like Camels better, the more they smoke them. Consider the fact that Camels are made from costlier tobaccos—and switch to them yourself. You will also discover that Camels are better for steady smoking.

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. Leaf tobaccos for cigarettes can be bought from 5¢ a pound to $1.00...but Camel pays the millions more that insure your enjoyment.

Camel's Costlier Tobaccos NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES NEVER TIRE YOUR TASTE

Teacher Kills Wife, Child in Rage

W. E. Kelly, lower right, Logan, Ia., school teacher, has confessed to killing his wife, upper right, and his two-year-old son, left, with a hammer, according to police. Kelly himself summoned the sheriff to his home, where the baby was found dead. Mrs. Kelly had a fractured skull and died later in a hospital. The slaying is said to have climaxed a quarrel.

provisions by an employer will be regarded as compliance with his individual agreement."

Interpreting paragraph 9, having to do with increase in prices, it is stated: "Where the July 1, 1933 price was a distress price, the employer signing the agreement may take his cost price on that date as the base for such increase in selling price as is permitted in the agreement."

The following groups of employees are not intended to be covered by the President's agreement, the bulletin states: professional occupations, employees of Federal, state and local governments and other public institutions and agencies, agricultural labor, domestic servants, and persons buying goods and selling them independently or persons selling solely on commission, provided however that persons regularly employed to sell on commission, with a base salary or guaranteed compensation, come within the requirements of the agreement."

Emergency Labor

Further interpretations are these: "Concerning emergency maintenance and repair work: 'Hours worked in excess of maximum by employees as emergency maintenance or repair work shall be paid at rate of time and one-third.'

"Concerning seasonal reduction of hours of operation: 'Hours of any store of service operation may be reduced below the minimum specified in paragraphs 7 and 2 if the reduction is in accordance with a practice of seasonal reduction of hours and does not result in reduction of weekly minimum wage for employees.' 'Minimum wage provision of agreement do not apply to apprentices if under contract with the employer on Aug. 1, 1933, but no one shall be considered an apprentice within the meaning of the interpretation who has previously completed an apprenticeship in the industry.'

"Concerning minimum wage for part time workers: 'Minimum wage for a part time worker is an employment described in paragraph 2 of agreement is a wage such as if the employee worked at that wage for a full week of 40 hours he would receive minimum weekly wage prescribed for him by agreement. Minimum wage for a part time worker in an employment described in paragraph 3 is a minimum wage per hour described by paragraph 6 of agreement.'

Hours of Operation

"Concerning minimum hours of store operation: 'Agreement imposes no limitation on the maximum hours of operation of a store or service.'

"Concerning employments included in paragraph 2: 'Following are among the employments where a person under 16 years of age may not be employed, except in some instances for three hours per day if person is 14 to 16 years old: barbers, beauty parlor operators, dish washers, drivers, delivery men, elevator operators, janitors, watchmen, porters, restaurant workers, filling station operators, maintenance forces.'

"Concerning immediate trade area: 'By immediate trade area is meant the area in which there is direct retail competition. In case of question, decision shall be made by Chamber of Commerce subject to review by state recovery board.'

"Concerning owners of stores without employees: 'Owners operating their own establishments without any employees may obtain insignia of NRA by signing the agreement and a certificate of compliance.'

"Concerning employees acting primarily in a managerial or executive capacity: 'Maximum hours fixed in paragraphs 2 and 3 do not apply to an employee receiving more than $35 per week and who is acting primarily, although not wholly in a managerial or executive capacity.'

"Concerning non-profit organizations: 'Non-profit organizations are considered as employers for purposes of agreement.'

For the LOVE of EVE

by Lucy Walling

CHAPTER I-A

MR. BIXBY frowned slightly. "Yes, you are to start tonight. I thought that point was definitely understood. As you know, Miss Marshall leaves Saturday. We want you here the following Monday."

"Go up to my office," Mr. Bixby went on, "and Miss Birney will take care of your expense money. She's wired for a hotel reservation. Take whatever time you need this afternoon to go home and pack or for shopping." With an indulgent smile he dismissed an exultant yet frightened Eve.

Eve knew that this trip to New York meant that the management at Bixby's had almost certainly decided upon her as the successor to Alice Marshall. When she accepted the expense money for the trip, she felt she had sealed her fate. It was the thing she had wanted, of course. She had slaved to get where she was. Eve's work always had come before her pleasures and ever since she began working she had bent all her energy toward one goal—to become manager of an advertising office. This promotion was a long and important step toward that ambition.

The expense money exchanged for Travelers' checks and tucked safely into the chamois bag, Eve went to the Y. W. C. A. where she had roomed ever since coming to Lake City, and packed a bag for the New York trip.

The small, shabby room at the Y that she had occupied these last busy, happy months of her girlhood already seemed a little strange, a little deserted. Eve had stayed on here even after she could have afforded more attractive and comfortable quarters. This decision was prompted entirely by economy. The building was conveniently near her work, and provided room and board at a very reasonable rate. Eve preferred to economize thus and put the money saved into pretty clothes and educational advancement. Eve was careful; thrifty. She did nothing without a definite purpose.

From the little table that served as a writing desk the pictured face of Eve's mother smiled at her from its cheap frame—the warm, steady mother-smile that had been unflinching all through Eve's life. Now she paused contritely before that picture of Kate Bayless. It was wrong, of course, not to have written to her mother that she was marrying Dick today. It was the first time she had ever shut her mother out from any important event of her life. True, she and Dick had decided hastily. And of course her mother was certain to approve of Dick, Eve had reflected proudly. Her father, too, Dick Rader was exactly the sort of dependable, industrious young man to please the most exacting parents. Nothing to worry about on that score. Suddenly Eve was conscious of that cheap, nondescript frame that held her mother's picture. Always she had planned to buy a better one, but always there had been something she had wanted for herself. Now she was ashamed that Dick should see her mother's picture in this frame. It almost seemed to her that he would know about the various things she had bought for herself with money that might have bought a frame. She would buy a new one in New York—a lovely, silver one.

As she packed for the trip Eve remembered regretfully that she really had very little beside her clothes to take to her new home. She had never, as do so many girls, bought pretty things to adorn her future home. Esther, her sister, had dozens of lovely gifts to take with her when she married. But Esther had had a long engagement to a home-town boy, showers, engagement parties, and a wedding to which a wide circle of relatives and friends were invited. Those things meant so much to Esther. With Eve marriage was important, but so was her career.

Eve recalled how she had started at Bixby's. Determined to get a foothold as a copy-writer, she had made the rounds of all the agencies and all the stores in Lake City before she reached Bixby's. The fact that no one needed a beginner and frankly told her so, had not discouraged her but merely put her on her mettle. Then she did what she considered a daring, preposterous thing. She went to Bixby's, most exclusive store of all, and begged

POLO PERSONALS

By KATHRYN KEAGY

POLO—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alling of Minneapolis, Minn., spent from Sunday until Wednesday with the latter's sister, Mrs. Elmer Weaver and family. On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Weaver and son Wayne and their guests attended the Century of Progress. Mr. and Mrs. Alling went to Rockford Wednesday and from there will go to Cheik, Wis., their former home for a visit before returning to Minneapolis.

Rev. and Mrs. L. R. Minion returned home Thursday from a two week's vacation spent in the east. Attorney and Mrs. Robert M. Brand and daughter Judith were guests in the Dr. A. A.

Earle Barnes, the advertising manager, to give her a trial.

"Never mind discussing salary now," she said. "Let me work two weeks. Then give me what you think I'm worth." And that astute gentleman, who prided himself on his shrewdness in judging an applicant's character and ability, had told her to go ahead.

"But remember," he warned her, "I'm not promising you a definite job. There isn't an opening here at present. You'll have to make a place for yourself. Browse around here and there in the store. If you see merchandise that looks to you like news, write about it. If you make good—"

And Eve had made good. Now Barnes was demonstrating his faith in her ability by giving her a column in Bixby's daily advertisement to fill with chatty comment on the fashions, new merchandise and the like. And to give the column an impressive start, Eve was to have a week in New York. Two days with Freda Carter, the dress buyer, on her way home from Paris with trunks filled with gowns from the Rue de la Paix, and the rest of the week to look about for herself. Eve's heart should sing, she told herself, instead of lying like a lump of lead and interfering with her breath. Her heart should sing because she was Dick's wife. But this evening—the evening of their wedding—she was going to New York without him. And Dick had not yet been told that she was going.

It was 5:40 that evening before Eve, almost breathless with haste and excitement, emerged from Bixby's. Dick was waiting. There was something almost pathetic about the way she approached him. "Oh, Dick, I've kept you waiting!" she cried, penitent, as she slipped her arm through his. And something reassuring, protecting, in his answer that he would always be waiting for her.

The November day had turned stormy and Eve brushed the snow from Dick's shoulders as they reached his roadster. How handsome he looked in his new navy-blue camel's hair overcoat. There was an air of unassuming prosperity about him. Dick tucked her in, pressed her hand and closed the door. When he slipped behind the wheel and started the motor Eve leaned over and kissed him. With a quick look to see that no one was near, Dick gathered her in his arms for a brief instant and as quickly let her go. She would tell him now. Might as well tell him now. Might as well have it over.

"Dick," she began, "I have something very, very important to tell you."

"Better wait till we get out of this traffic," he warned. "We'll have a lot to talk over then."

And Eve was glad for the delay. It was not going to be easy to tell him. They followed the boulevard toward the Heights, Dick driving at the rate of 25 miles an hour to keep with the green lights and avoid abrupt stopping on the slippery asphalt. Eve was sick with worry. She snuggled as closely as she dared to Dick's arm.

"Happy?" he asked.

"You know I am," she told him and managed to smile.

They drove to Mission Inn for their wedding dinner. Eve was glad that Dick had selected this charming place. The evergreens outside the imposing, tile-roofed stucco building were mantled with Christmas-like whiteness. Inside, soft organ music came from the chapel.

At their table—a small one set for two—the southern California influence for which Mission Inn had been named was even more in evidence. A starred ceiling of heavenly blue shut out the winter night and storm. Wisteria trailed along the eaves and hung in purple clusters. Brilliantly colored parakeets looked saucily at the diners from their perches near the fountain. Here was a lemon tree in a green tub and there an orange tree or an oleander. The air was fragrant with exotic blossoms. On a wrought iron balcony above sat a senorita in yellow, wearing a black lace mantilla and a red rose in her hair. She was picking out soft melodies on a golden harp.

Dick had reserved the table and ordered the dinner. Excited and worried as she was, Eve realized that she was hungry. She remembered now that she had eaten nothing since breakfast. She slipped the mushroom soup, with its unusual piquancy of flavor, for which the inn was famous and ate with relish the baked quab which was another specialty of the place. When the dessert arrived—frozen cream molded in the form of mission bells—she looked thoughtfully across the table at Dick.

"Our wedding bells, Dick," she smiled wistfully.

"Like it this way," he said. "Without all the fuss and excitement. Just we two in a world by ourselves."

"By ourselves . . . by ourselves," Eve murmured. Then she took the plunge.

"Darling," she began, "I've been trying to tell you for an hour. I—nothing has ever been so hard for me! I can scarcely begin—but would you feel dreadfully if I had to leave you?"

ATHLETICS ARE NO COUSINS TO LEAGUE LEADERS

Mackmen Giving Yanks And Senators Real Competition

By HUGH S. FULLERTON
The Philadelphia Athletics, ten games or more out of the American League pennant race, have had some bad moments for the contending New York Yankees and Washington Senators as the leaders moved toward today's opening of another "crucial" series. After handing the second place Yanks three straight defeats to knock them four games out of first place, the Sox, their bludgeons against Washington yesterday and helped reduce the margin to three games. The Sox slammed Ed Chapman making his first appearance for the Senators, off the hill in less than three rounds as Jimmie Fox helped with his thirty first homer. Then after the Senators had taken advantage of the wildness of "Sugar" Cain and Rube Walberg to tie the score, they moved ahead again on Pinky Higgins' homer in the seventh and finished with another burst for a final score of 12-8.

Sox Errors Help Yanks
The Yanks, meanwhile, downed the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 4, largely because of Boston's errors and Phipps' lack of control. The victory left the Yanks three games behind Washington and ten ahead of the Sox, who in turn increased their third-place margin to 1-2 games as Detroit's Tigers captured the remaining first division berth from Cleveland with a double victory.

After pounding Oral Hildebrand to win the opener 7 to 3, the Tigers took the second game 2-1 on a five hit pitching job by Fred Marberry. Charley Gehringer hit a homer in each game. Chicago's White Sox and the St. Louis Browns divided the other American League twin bill. The Sox won the first game 6-5 in eleven innings when Red Kress drove in the winning run, but George Blaeholder's four hit flinging evened the count with a 7-1 St. Louis victory.

Reds Day's Sensation
The humble Cincinnati Reds were the day's sensations in the National League as they took a pair of brilliant extra inning pitching duels from the St. Louis Cardinals. Red Lucas went 11 innings to beat Tex Carleton 2 to 1 in the opener, then Paul Derringer, a former Cardinal, held St. Louis to three hits in 12 frames to win the second clash from Jesse Haines, 1-0. Chick Hefey, another ex-Card, scored both winning runs with Clyde Hanlon and Jim Bottomley driving him home. The double victory advanced the Reds to seventh place.

The league-leading New York Giants got no better than an even break with the Brooklyn Dodgers, losing the first game 6-3 when Carl Hubbell weakened in the eighth, then winning 3-2 with the aid of some brilliant relief pitching by Adolfo Luque. But they increased their lead over Pittsburgh to 3-1-2 games as the Chicago Cubs and Pat Malone handed the Pirates a 6-0 whitewashing. Malone pitched six hit ball while the Cubs found Steve Swetonic for five runs in the fifth.

The Phillies and the Boston Braves waged a pair of close duels that got them nowhere. The Phils won the opener 1-0 when Spud Davis' homer in the second decided a struggle between Ed Holley and Dutch Brandt. Boston came back with a 2-1, ten inning victory as Buck Jordan smacked a single with the bases loaded to break up a battle between Frank Frankhouse and Austin Moore.

WINNER PUBLIC LINKS TITLE IS HOPING FOR JOB

More Excited Over A Place to Work Than Over His Victory

Portland, Ore., Aug. 7—(AP)—Charles Ferrara was more excited today over the possibility of getting his job back in a San Francisco foundry than he was over winning the National Public Links golf crown for the second time.

"I'm glad to have won the championship again but I'll be a lot happier if the old cup helps me get the job back which I lost a year ago," said the Californian who scored a 4 and 2 triumph over the defending titlist, Robert Lee Miller of Jacksonville, Fla., in their 36-hole skirmish at the Eastmoreland municipal course here Saturday.

Ferrara is the second golfer to capture the championship more than once, but he still is behind the record of Carl Kaufman of Cleveland who won the trophy three consecutive years beginning in 1927.

Tab Boyer, Portland, won the medal trophy in a 36-hole playoff with Leslie Leal, Bellingham, Wash., yesterday. The two tied for the lead in the qualifying play. Boyer carded 145, Leal, 157.

Collapse of King Vines

Was the collapse of Ellsworth Vines in Davis Cup play against the English due to his bad ankle, over-training, under-training, cockiness, or that Australian trip last winter? Experts have been trying to blame the downfall of Vines on all those things. The above photo shows Vines being carried from the Roland Garros stadium in Paris, where he fainted after his match with England's Fred Perry.

Books and Slides

LET'S FORGET IT—

Now that the Davis Cup team is safely back home, maybe we can have a little let-up in the stream of explanations, speculations, accusations, suggestions, insinuations, analyses, and just plain alibis that has gushed forth ever since they took a trimming at Paris.

Suppose it was overtraining, under-training, court conditions, dissension, climate, bad direction, indifference, overstrain, any of these things, or all of them, or none of them.

What difference does it make? Have we got to the point where we can't take a licking in a silly little tennis match, even when we went up in a red-hot favorite, without getting a hot-box on every type-writer in the country? The old wheeze that "No Englishman is ever fairly beaten," surely can't be coming true of us, can it?

BETTER TIMES AHEAD—
The long and short of it is that the Davis Cup campaign was a flop we didn't get to the challenge round; we didn't win a singles match from the English in the zone finals; young Mr. Vines wound up in a beautiful nose-dive into the red clay of the Stade Roland Garros.

Well, so what? The earth still goes round the sun, and we still have the National Recovery Act. Austin and Perry played swell tennis; our boys were off their feed. What of it? If we just must win the Davis Cup, there are, other years.

It has been a screwy season for tennis anyway; might as well just wind up with those Goldman-Saks shares we bought a few years back. Here's little Sarah Palfrey beating Helen Jacobs, and Helen Wills Moody losing out in doubles with her favorite partner, Alice Marble. The demure little Palfrey girl stands 12th in the national rankings, and beats the husky Jacobs girl, whom nobody else but Mrs. Moody has been able to beat. There is no sense in that, is there? And even the faultless Mrs. Moody came darned near losing out to the British Sunday school teacher, Dorothy Round.

PLEASE DON'T CRY—
Miss Palfrey is pretty sure to be on the Wightman Cup team at least in the doubles, as a result of beating Miss Jacobs. But if the girls don't win from the British invaders, let's hope there will be no such flood of tears over the match as followed the Davis Cup. In a tennis match, as in any game, the idea is to show who is the best on the field the day of the match. That's all a match can decide, and all it should decide.

All the rest is a lot of condensed milk.

DID YOU KNOW—
Ellsworth Vines' alibi for his Wimbledon and Davis Cup defeats is that tour of Australia and New Zealand he, Allison and Van Ryn took last winter. And Elly says he'd turn pro for fifty grand.

It seems as if the Old Dazzler is all washed up, and that his last year will be the present one with the Cards. Vance has started only two games and had only a few relief assignments—the old rocking chair has got him. If Burleigh Grimes hadn't caught on with the Cards after the Cubs released him, Red Spittal might have been the one to take over. But he's been the one to take over around $900 to feed the riders in a six-day bike grind.

WESTERN OPEN FOR WOMEN ON OAK PARK CLUB

Biggest, Best Field In Years Competes In Western Open

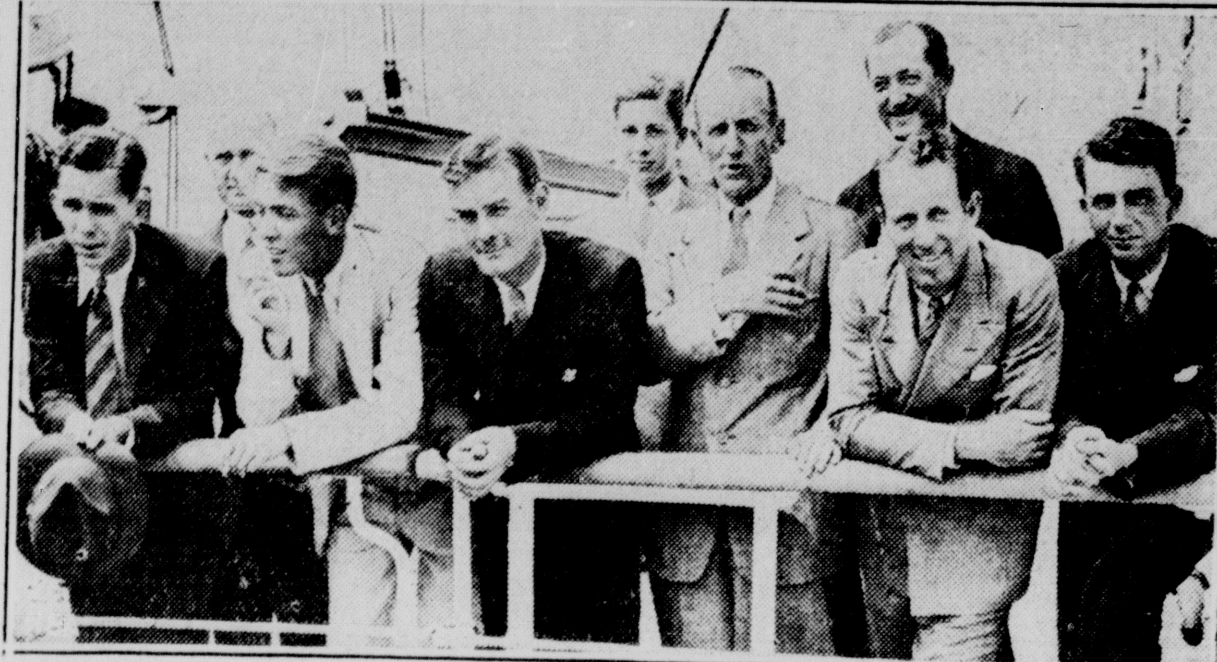

Chicago, Aug. 7—(AP)—The biggest and best field in several years, headed by Virginia Van Wie, the national title-holder, started today in the 18-hole qualifying round of the Women's Western Open golf championship tournament at the Oak Park Country Club.

Mrs. Opal Hill of Kansas City, the defending champion, faced not only Miss Van Wie, but a host of other stars. June Beebe, astonishing Chicago youngster, winner of three western events this year, was after her fourth victory, and Mrs. Charles Denney, the former Virginia Wilson, and Mary K. Browne of Cleveland, tennis and golf stars, were entered.

Four state titleholders were included. Mrs. Austin Pardee of Minneapolis, Lucille Robinson of Des Moines, the Iowa champion, and runner-up to Mrs. Hill in last year's tournament; Mrs. A. H. Means of Utah, and Mrs. Harley Higbee of Detroit.

California was represented by Mrs. Leona Dressler Cheney, Mrs. Mildred Green, and Miss Virginia Hughes, all strong candidates for places in the qualifying list.

American Stars Return—Without the Davis Cup

BROUILLARD TO SEEK A SECOND CROWN OF RING

Worcester Slugger Takes On Jebby On Wednesday Eve

New York, Aug. 7—(AP)—Lou Brouillard, French-Canadian southpaw from Worcester, Mass., will seek his second fistic crown here Wednesday night when he meets Ben Jebby, recognized by the New York State Athletic Commission as world's middleweight champion, in a 15-round battle at the Polo Grounds.

Brouillard held the world's welterweight title for a short time, lost it to Jackie Fields at Chicago and a little later joined his lot with the middleweights. His most recent—and most spectacular—victory was a decisive triumph over Mickey Walker at Boston.

Jebby recently made a successful defense of his disputed championship against Young Terry of Trenton, N. J., but probably will be no better than an even choice, if that, against the Worcester slugger. Jebby never before has faced a southpaw and the betting fraternity will take that fact into serious consideration when quoting their odds.

Otherwise the national program is marked by a double-windup card at Los Angeles tomorrow night with Maxey Rosenberg, world's light heavyweight champion, and Gorilla Jones, Akron, O., holder of the National Boxing Association American middleweight title, appearing in none-title ten rounds. Rosenberg will meet K. O. Christner, Akron heavyweight, and Jones will face Veal Whitehead of Santa Monica.

Mr. Eagan Finds Something New In Soviet Box Fight

New York, Aug. 7—(AP)—Eddie Eagan returns from Russia with the startling information that the Soviet heavyweight champion backs a mean kiss.

It was at Stalingrad—nee Lenin—grad, near Petrograd, that St. Petersburg—that Mr. Eagan, former American amateur heavyweight champion, met the champ. His name, Eagan recalls was Michailoff—spelling not guaranteed. If he had a first name Eagan missed it. Comrade Michailoff expressed a desire to engage in some boxing with Mr. Eagan; and Mr. Eagan, though past his pugilistic prime, is still nobody's setup.

They fought Mr. Eagan in the course of the embargo put a hard one on Comrade Michailoff's chin, and the Comrade went down and out.

"The Russians," said Eagan today, "had been rather apathetic during our exchange of blows, and seemed not particularly exercised when Comrade Michailoff went down. They became very interested, however, in my methods of resuscitation. It was almost like a clinic, and they watched me, fascinated as I brought the champion back to consciousness."

"Delighted as they were at my resuscitation efforts it was Comrade Michailoff who became positively exuberant when he came to and realized that he was still with us."

"He got up, rushed up to me and—kissed me on the cheeks."

In this country it is not uncommon, as Mr. Eagan remarks.

HUDKINS RAN INTO TROUBLE IN NIGHT CLUB

Fighter Is In Hospital With Two Bullets In His Body

Los Angeles, Aug. 7—(AP)—Ace Hudkins, dubbed the "Nebraska Wild Cat" by boxing fans, is in a hospital with two pistol slugs in his chest, received in what police described as a safe brawl.

Physicians said his condition was serious but not critical. He goes on the operating table today in effort to remove the bullets, one of which lodged in the right upper lobe of his lung, and stop a hemorrhage.

Hudkins embarked on his most recent night club fistic celebration, witnesses told police, when he, with several friends arrived at the cafe in an openly belligerent mood. The middleweight, whose fists still carry weight in spite of lacking of training, punched a few of the patrons for a warm-up.

As the proprietor, R. H. Harris, asked Hudkins to take his fights outside the witnesses said, Hudkins decided to show him "how to run the place."

Boxer Pulled Gun
Police were told that the boxer pulled a gun from his pocket and brandished it in the face of Harris.

Harris, alarmed, drew a gun at the same moment and fired. Hudkins pitched to the floor, face down, while patrons fled to the street.

The cafe proprietor fired twice. The one slug, of small caliber, entered the lung. The other ranged downward into the pelvic cavity.

A favorite with fight fans for his aggressiveness, Hudkins used to boast in and out of the ring that he could "take it." In Los Angeles he has been a ring attraction since he came here as a youngster from Nebraska in 1924.
